

THIS MONTH

FEATURES

- 9 Unions set young people in their sights
Unions recognise that they must do more to recruit, organise and support young people. Will 2019 be the year they make progress?
- 13 The year ahead for workers and their unions
Like 2018, this year will continue to be overshadowed by Brexit. Nevertheless, other issues are likely to impact on unions
- 17 Juggling work and caring for family members
Although there is a legal entitlement to request flexible working, many workers still struggle to balance work with family care
